

Paid in Full - South Sudanese Community Centre

We are pleased to report that Winnipeg's South Sudanese Community Centre (SSCC) has completed its loan obligations to Jubilee Fund and is Paid In Full!

Jubilee Fund was pleased to be able to assist the Centre after it found itself dealing with cash flow concerns and needed help to ensure it could continue to meet its obligations to the Sudanese community.

Founded in 2006, the SSCC has spent the past 16 years serving the needs of Winnipeg's South Sudanese community through various offerings including – assisting South Sudanese immigrants settle into Winnipeg and broader Manitoba; provide information and resources to strengthen the educational, cultural, social and economic capacities of the South Sudanese in Manitoba; foster unity and mutual understanding among and between South Sudanese in Manitoba and Canada through collaborative activities; educate the members and the Canadian public about South Sudan's history culture, traditions and the diversity of its people; To work with professionals in the community and the wider Canadian society to provide counseling and psychological support to members; To assist members that are unemployed by linking them to those that might know of job opportunities; and more.

Being able to assist organizations like SSCC is why Jubilee Fund exists and we are thrilled they have achieved Paid In Full status. Congratulations to SSCC on their continued work and the complete payment of their loan commitment.

It is because of investments from our ethical investors making their resources available to Jubilee Fund that we are able to assist organizations like SSCC. Without your contributions organizations like SSCC would not receive the help they so richly deserve; thank you.
